Greetings from Pure Michigan!

Our state is a remarkable place, and we at the Michigan Department of Transportation are excited to welcome you to Traverse City next year for the 2018 MAASTO Annual Meeting on August 27-29, 2018.

Make plans now to join us in Michigan for the 109th MAASTO Annual Meeting, where we'll be examining more closely how transportation makes connections across modes of travel and communities. Those connections redefine how we think of transportation, and transform the lives of the people joined by our system. At MAASTO 2018, we will examine the links between what we do and the people it affects. All of this while visiting one of the most beautiful corners of our state - the Cherry Capital of the World - where you can experience for yourself the tourism and recreation connections made here every day. The Grand Traverse Resort and Spa will serve as our host, and they have generously offered to extend the conference room rate for the entire week, including Labor Day weekend.

We've got a lot planned for you in Traverse City next year. We're really looking forward to your visit.

Kirk T. Steudle, P.E., Director Michigan Department of Transportation

Registration, sponsorship and exhibits are now live and can be found at <http://www.maasto2018.com>.
