SIGNS OF RECOVERY

As we kicked off the new year, we ushered in a sense of hope that the long year of 2020 was finally over. The stark reality, however, was that the year of the pandemic still had some legs. Nonetheless, we were optimistic about the outlook. Now that the signs of spring start to melt away some of the darkness of winter, we are seeing some of that light shine on our industry as well.

Covid-19 cases are declining in rate and severity throughout the country. Vaccinations have exceeded the 70 million mark and more options continue to come online. February even saw one of the first larger gatherings return with the Florida Transportation Builders Association's Construction Conference held in Orlando, Florida. This team of professionals was able to apply sound planning and prudent safety measures to allow for nearly 1,000 colleagues to convene in an exchange of information and solidarity for the industry.

We congratulate them on this achievement. Here are a couple of other examples that we can look forward to in the season ahead:
